BANDITS GET MILLION IN TRAIN HOLD-UP

48 Perish In Navy's Greatest Peace Time Disaster

Revolt In G.O.P. Convention Sweeps Dawes Into V.P. Nomination

Big Band of Desperadoes Seize Train of Ten Cars; Use Guns and Gas Bombs to Subdue Crew

CHICAGO, June 12.—(By the Associated Press)—In one of the biggest and most daring robberies in railroad history, four automobile loads of bandits last night held up a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail and express train and escaped with registered mail variously estimated between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

The train, enroute from Chicago to St. Paul, was stopped at Roundout, Ill., 32 miles north of Chicago. Consisting of eight mail coaches and two express cars, it left Chicago at 9:30 a. m. on a standard time. Fifty minutes later it was in the possession of the bandits.

In 75 minutes more they gathered between 42 to 45 pouches of registered mail and sped away into the darkness. A few shots were fired, but the only casualty was a robber shot by his fellows who mistook him for a trainman.

The loss early today was estimated at about $2,000,000, but Federal reserve bank officials said that a careful check might show it to exceed that figure.

The train carried more than twenty mail clerks and guards, all armed, but only those in three cars were compelled to face the guns of the robbers. Those cars carried the registered and first class mail.

The robbers forced their way into the cars by breaking windows and throwing bombs filled with chlorine gas. The clerks and guards, nearly overcome by the deadly fumes, were forced to open the doors and allow the robbers to enter.

Officials are certain that the holdup was arranged by men thoroughly familiar with railroad and railway mail clerks' work.

At least two of the robbers concealed themselves aboard the mail special before it left Chicago. The train had just gone through Roundout and was traveling close to 60 miles an hour. Two men carrying flashlights and pistols came from their hiding place between the tender and the first coach, crawled across the swaying coal tender and into the engine cab.

The muzzle of one weapon was pushed against the neck of Engineer S. R. White, of Milwaukee. The other bandit covered the fireman, E. J. Biddle, also of Milwaukee.

Ordered Engine Crew To Stop

"A half mile down the track you'll see a red light flashed on the west side," the man back of the engineer said. "You'll stop the train. If you don't you're done."

The train roared on with slackened speed as the bandit had ordered a slow application of the brakes. Just where the Buckley road, a popular automobile route between Chicago and Louisville, cut the track, a red light flashed close to the west rail.

"Now jerk it," the bandit yelled into the engineer's ear.

Before the train came to a full stop a third bandit cut the air line.

Of the eight cars of the train only one remained registered mail.

The bandits directed that the train be slowly backed so that the car was stopped across the automobile road.

Clerks in the rear car saw two automobiles on the east side of the train and two on the west side, sensed something was wrong and, according to their orders, extinguished all lights. When they refused to open the doors the bandits hurled gas bombs through the windows and against the deadly fumes the courage of the men and their pistols were ineffective.

Outside they were lined up with the engineer, fireman, conductor and flagman.

Two other cars likewise were bombed with gas and the occupants forced out hands above their heads, for air.

The pouches sought were found only in the middle coach, however. The leaders of the robbers, a stocky fellow wearing a gray suit, donned a gas mask and forced one on the chief mail clerk.

Mystery Bag Secured

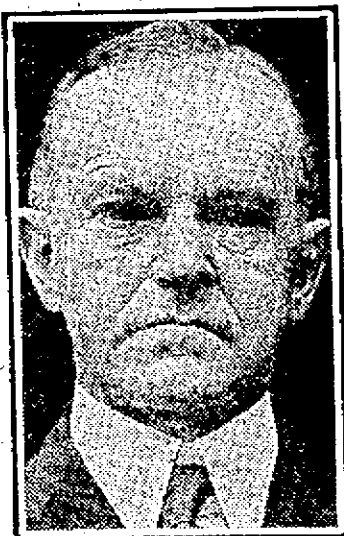

"I want the Federal reserve shipments to Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Helena, Butte, Seattle and Spokane," the leader announced. "I also want, for my own special purposes, a sack you have consigned to Roundup, Montana."

Even the mystery bag labeled "Roundup, Montana," was obtained.

As the bandit leader and the chief clerk flung the pouches to the ground, the other bandits forced the mail clerks

Butler and Republican Leaders At Odds Over Vice Presidential Row; Butler Sharply Criticized

(By ROBERT J. BENDER)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—(By the United Press)—

Even by long hours of sleepless study over one of the most nauseating political situations that ever has featured a Republican National Convention, members of the national committee met today to organize for the forthcoming campaign.

All of the worry and some of the bitterness that repeatedly flared up through the struggle of the party leaders yesterday in seeking to nominate a strong running mate for President Calvin Coolidge, flared militantly today as the new committeemen and committeewomen assembled to make Wm. M.

Butler, their chairman for the campaign.

Of course there is nothing to do but elect Butler to lead the national committee. It is the president's wish-

ness that repeatedly flared up

Explosion In Gun Turret of Dreadnaught Mississippi Brings Sham Battle to Tragic Climax

SAN PEDRO, CALIF., June 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The lives of three officers and 45 enlisted men have been snuffed out aboard the dreadnaught Mississippi in the navy's greatest peace-time disaster which brought to a tragic climax a week of sham battles and target practice.

Aboard the hospital ship Relief, lay the dead, killed by a premature explosion in the Mississippi's number two turret and the injured. Aboard the U. S. S. New Mexico, headquarters of division four of the battle fleet, members of a naval board of inquiry prepared to open their investigation of the disaster.

Aboard the Mississippi, anchored inside the breakwater, officers and men watched the flames-shattered turret, where a 14-inch gun, with an unexploded charge jammed in its breech, meant that the danger of still another explosion had not passed.

It was a "flare-back" from one of the guns that shot death in flames and poisonous gases back into the turret through the open breech. A second, the turret itself, fell loose in the harbor here as the Mississippi steamed home with its dead and injured from the drill grounds and hurled a steel projectile dangerously near to an outboard passenger liner. Should the third gun's charge explode before it can be removed, however, it is believed that precautions already taken will render the firing harmless.

Of the injured there were strangely few. With a death list close to the half hundred mark, only eight men were numbered among the hurt and their injuries were comparatively slight, consisting mainly of minor burns and lacerations.

Three officers are among the dead. They are: Lieutenant Thomas Sellers and Ensigns Marcus Erwin and William G. McGee.

Ensign Levesque, an observer from the U. S. S. New Mexico, had an almost miraculous escape. Standing on the shell deck by the side of Ensign Erwin, he caught sight of the open gun breech as the command to fire was given.

Unhesitatingly he dived forty feet down the shaft of the endless chain power bucket. He was cut and bruised, but is still alive. Erwin was killed instantly.

John A. McCormick, seaman, second class, of Cleveland, was the only Ohioan reported dead. His next of kin was Mrs. Grace McCormick, Cleveland.

All danger of another explosion aboard the Mississippi, anchored outside the harbor breakwater, was removed today when the third charge of the turret was safely fired.

The turret, which had been fired by the ship's gun, was taken to the pier and placed in the water.

Engaged in Secret Gunnery Practice

The battleship Mississippi, Tennessee, Idaho and California, the latter towing the target, were off San Clemente Island, 45 miles from here and were engaged in secret gunnery practice, a feature of which was mass firing by thirty-six 14-inch rifles trained on a single target.

It was about 1:00 o'clock. In the plotting room of the Mississippi electric bulbs flashed one by one their signals.

Lowden Refused To Accept After Being Nominated; Dawes Swept In Against Butler's Wishes

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—(By the Associated Press)—The campaign to elect President Coolidge to succeed himself, and Charles G. Dawes, of Illinois, to be vice president, got formally under way today with organization of the new Republican National Committee.

The Republican National Convention, which started with almost depressing calm, worked up steadily through the three days of its session into a roaring, prelude-setting climax last night and ended amid scenes that soothed the hearts of the old timers.

Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, had been nominated by an overwhelming vote and had declined.

That had never happened before in the party's history, nor was it in accordance with the convention's purpose.

Then after a recess to confer for the last time Mr. Lowden's frequently reiterated decision, the "Hell and Maria" general from Chicago was swept into the nomination.

And that, too, had not been planned by the leaders.

The convention itself, as President Coolidge wished, had named his running mate.

Nomination and acclamation of Calvin Coolidge was accomplished at the morning session with decorous enthusiasm, only the Wisconsin and North Dakota followers of Senator La Follette dissenting. Everybody knew what was going to happen and it did. Then came the business of selecting the vice presidential candidate. Nobody knew what was going to happen, though some of them thought they did.

A recess was taken after the nomination of President Coolidge to give the delegates another opportunity to get together on a vice presidential candidate.

When the afternoon session began, however, sentiment was no nearer crystallization than it had been during the preceding days and nights of conferring and maneuvering and the first ballot carried 18 names, only one of which had been placed formally in nomination.

As the delegates gathered for the afternoon session from luncheon or conferences or both, hand bills, posters, banners and other campaigning material appeared. The floor soon was littered with discarded campaign paraphernalia.

Together, delegations caucused, individuals and groups were urged, beseeched, argued with.

Some heard that Judge William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, was the favored candidate. Others heard the same thing about Senator Charles Curtis, of Kansas. But while the nominations were being placed before the convention, the name of former Governor Lowden, presented despite his protestations, aroused the largest demonstration.

On the first ballot, Mr. Lowden received 222 votes, Judge Kenyon, 172; General Dawes, 139, and Representative Theodore E. Burton, 135.

Administration Leaders Favored Lowden

The administration leaders made plans to nominate Representative Burton on the second ballot. William M. Butler, campaign manager for President Coolidge, was openly working for him.

The tide, however, swept overwhelmingly toward Lowden on the second ballot and soon, in the midst of wild confusion, delegation after delegation strove for recognition to change votes cast for others into his column.

The final count gave him 779 votes; Representative Burton, 60; Kenyon, 74, and Dawes, 32.

Senator Frank B. Willis, of Ohio, moved that the Lowden nomination be made unanimous. The anarchy that came from the Wisconsin section and more confusion followed.

Chairman Mondell managed to establish order and read an undated letter prepared in advance by Mr. Lowden for presentation in event he was nominated. It was a masterpiece of tact and moderation, expounded appreciation of the honor and declined the nomination.

A motion by Senator Willis to lay it on the table, was lost. Representative Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, asked the date of the letter. Chairman Mondell thereupon read an Associated Press dispatch from Green Bay, Wis., Mr. Lowden's home, "as the most recent and authentic information" in his possession confirming the former governor's stand.

Disorder Ensued

Great disorder ensued while leaders tried to decide whether to accept Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, chairman of the resolutions committee, eventually managed to make himself heard above the clamor and proposed another recess to enable Chairman Mondell to get a formal and final declaration from Mr. Lowden. This was done, Mr. Lowden's reply being given to the cheering throng through the Associated Press and also by commercial telegraph.

While the delegates gathered for the last session to receive the Lowden reply and elect a candidate, the canvassing and maneuvering was resumed on the floor. The drift was sufficiently strong for recognition to change convention managers to put in telephone calls for him at Marietta, Ohio, where he was visiting his sister.

They wanted to make sure he would accept if nominated.

Butler and Reed Disagree

Mr. Butler, meanwhile, told Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania:

"It can't be Dawes; it must be Hoover."

Sensor Reed replied:

Uprising In National Committee Fades Out

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—(By the United Press)—

Direct murmurs of a revolt running through the ranks and file of the Republican National Committee evaporated into thin air today when the committee met to organize for the presidential campaign.

The Coolidge slate of officers headed by William M. Butler as chairman, was put through with but one exception.

William V. Hodges of Denver, was elected treasurer to succeed Fred Upham, resigned. Arthur Mellon, of Pittsburgh, a relative of Secretary of Treasury Mellon, had been picked to fill his post.

Butler's selection was unanimous. Those who were voting their anger yesterday at what they termed mismanagement of the vice-presidential nomination campaign, had cooled off completely today.

Ralph Williams of Oregon, was re-elected vice-chairman. Two new vice chairmen were added, Charles D. Hilles, of New York, and Mrs. A. T. Hart of Louisville, Kentucky; Roy O. West of Chicago, was elected secretary.

Hodges is president of the Denver Civil and Commercial Association and a graduate of Columbia University. He is 48.

Gaston Doumergue, Conservative Socialist, New French President

(By United Press)

VERSAILLES, FRANCE, June 12.—(By the United Press)—Gaston Doumergue, president of the senate, was elected president of France by the National Congress here today.

The new president succeeds M. Millerand, whose resignation was forced by the Left parties following the recent parliamentary elections.

Doumergue had the support of the blue national (The Poincare coalition) as being the least radical of the candidates put forward by the Left.

Doumergue defeated Paul Painleve, president of the chamber of deputies 515 to 304.

His election was expected and is more or less satisfactory to all the elements concerned, although there was bitter debate among the more radical of the Left parties, many of whom favored Laval, or former Premier Aristide Briand.

Conservative support put Doumergue in office, the Poincare elements feeling he will not go to extremes in forming a Socialist regime.

Doumergue is 61 years old and a the Guard Department, who today was elected thirteenth president of France, during which he has been premier and has held a number of portfolios in various ministries.

New Film is Heartily Approved When Given Private Screening

(By F. L. S.)
Children of the present and future generations have a real front in store for them, if their history classes are to be made vivid by such motion pictures as we saw yesterday, in company with other invited guests, when two episodes from the "Chronicles of America" were screened at the Eastland Theatre. We were not alone in our enthusiasm, for the mayor of the city, the superintendent of schools, many teachers, representatives from the various civic and women's organizations, all joined in applauding so fine a picturization of important episodes in American history as has been achieved by the Yale University Press in the "Chronicles."

We would like to go back to our school days again and have that wonderful accomplishment of George Rogers Clark and his little band of Virginians, when they expelled the British from the Northwest Territory, made vivid for us by such a picture as the "Vincennes" episode which was one of the two shown yesterday. Our own history holds thrilling moments that we often lose in the class room, but no child could fail to be stirred to patriotism by the determination of Clark when, surrounded by advisers who declared the march through the flooded forest impossible in the cold of February, he set his jaw firmly, faced his friends fearlessly and said, "You're right. It can't be done—but, by God, we're going to do it." And they did. Made that dreadful march of 240 miles through forest trails, flooded miles through endless pangs of cold, of hunger, of intense weariness, but he and his little band of men, the United States the great west territory.

The entire series of the "Chronicles of America" which treats of the history of our nation, from the time of the sailing of Columbus, down to a comparatively recent date, will be shown at the Eastland theatre. The Vincennes episode, the first to be shown here, will open Monday, June 16.

and there are none to deny him. But it is perhaps unfortunate that the Coolidge-Dawes ticket goes to the post for the great quadrennial presidential sweepstakes, with its jockey sharply at odds with the rainers and many of those conducting the race.

Recent Outsiders "Butler" In

There were many rough spots in the handling of the vice presidential nomination fight in the convention yesterday and perhaps still more in the private room conferences which preceded the balloting. Many of the old time Republican leaders pointed to these as indications of Butler's lack of experience in national political matters. "Then, too, there was much resentment that Butler—an 'outsider'—should come into the party councils and attempt to establish a dictatorship over a domain long ruled by school politicians."

Butler wanted Senator Borah for Coolidge's running mate. He "thought" Borah would accept it, was said, in fact, that Borah had never said he would not—to President Coolidge, who probably never asked him to. Political leaders in the great states of Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio said "all right, we'll put over Borah."

Then Borah threw the job back into their faces and Butler heard more than one strong administration pillar say, "I, for one, will wash my hands of the whole business."

But even like Senators Reed and Dwyer, of Pennsylvania, Wadsworth, of New York, and Willis, of Ohio, decided to try, with the aid of some of the old-timers, to put over for the vice presidency, one of their senatorial or congressional number. They agreed upon Senator Curtis and didn't tell Butler about it.

Butler Got Word Of Plot

But the shrewd Yankee manager of

Mr. Coolidge soon heard what was going on and several notices that "he wouldn't" have it—and things were all at sixes and sevens.

The convention recessed so that the leaders could think things over again. Butler suggested Judge Kenyon, of Iowa, again. But when he picked him on the floor earlier in the day as a substitute for Curtis, Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio joined in an emphatic chorus of "absolutely not."

The same delegations felt no differently about it this time as they did before. With two throw-downs to his record—the refusal of Borah and Lowden, Butler turned to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover. It was pointed out to Butler that Hoover's position was much the same as that of Borah and Lowden—it would embarrass him to accept after strenuously saying he wanted none of the job.

A committee talked with Hoover on objections.

But, by this time, with the hour getting late, the need of rest getting very pronounced and the refusal of candidates to accept posts, they already had objected to the delegates were in ripe mood for a revolt against any more of Butler's candidates.

They roared through on Dawes, the pick of the big business delegations, who turned enough votes to him early in the balloting to get the semblance of a stampede started in the minds of the weary delegates.

The feeling of concern among some of the state chairmen at Butler's leadership during the coming campaign, may best be shown by the remarks last night of one of them after the convention ended. "Butler picked four horses. Borah, wouldn't run. Borah couldn't run. Kenyon was scratched, and Hoover was left at the post."

barrassed by a nomination."

Butler Was Admired

But Butler was admired. It was difficult for him to understand how any man could refuse the office, if nominated, because it never had been done before. And while Lowden did it, there were extenuating circumstances and certainly such an amazing thing could not happen twice in the same convention.

So the voting proceeded with the word passed from Butler that Hoover would go over "sure."

Dawes

"It can't be done; it must be Dawes."

The convention was called to order shortly after 10 o'clock. Mr. Lowden's decision was accepted and the third ballot began. Mr. Hoover's name appeared for the first time in the voting when Alabama, the first state on the left in the breach after the previous firing—the only avenues of escape were cut off by flames. Four men leaped through hatches to safety. All others in that part of the turret containing the guns suffocated in the atmosphere of flames, gas and poisonous fumes.

Joe Caviesel, seaman, from the New Mexico, and another blue jacket, attached to the Mississippi, huddled themselves through an open hatch with Robert MacKee, New Mexico boatswain, entangling after them. Ensign J. J. Levanseur, another observer from the New Mexico, dived from the shell deck down the shaft of the powder hoist leading away from the turret.

For half an hour every flame extinguishing agency on board was directed towards the burning gasses and the flaming oil drip of the gun operating machinery.

The hatches were choked with dead and only water hose at first could be forced through the entanglements.

Here Ensign Death Turret

Then Ensign H. D. Smith, of Spokane, Washington, took advantage of outstanding hero of the disaster. Smith answered the call for volunteers willing to enter the death turret. He was chosen because of his small stature.

Equipped with a gas mask and an air hose he forced his way through the piled up bodies of victims, and braving an inferno of heat, gas and flames, made a complete inspection of the turret and reported no survivors.

Then he went back and brought out the first bodies.

By then other vessels in the division knew what had happened. The Tennessee and the Idaho stood by and lowered small boats. Ship's surgeons were sent to the stricken vessel.

Feared Further Explosions. Might Wreck Ship

Over all was the apprehension that other guns in the turret would explode, that the explosion might reach the magazines and wreck the Mississippi.

One other gun did explode and that too, at the tragic moment when the bodies and injured men were being transferred to the hospital ship Relief after a rescue party in the wake of wireless messages that gave naval officers ashore their first intimation of the disaster.

That the second explosion did not send a projectile crashing into the center of a city was due to the fact that after the first blast the damaged turret swung around so that its guns pointed out to sea.

Communication Officer Morgan, attached to the Battleship New Mexico, announced early today that the bodies of the victims would be kept aboard the Hospital Ship Relief, pending word from their next of kin. Telegrams were sent to those relatives last night. He said that the bodies would be transported to their respective homes or buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, in accord with relatives' wishes.

Inhalation of flames, gas and poisonous fumes, rather than the violence of the explosion caused the deaths, witnesses pointed out. The explosion itself did little damage. The flames which followed it were what created the inferno in which the 48 perished.

Many officers and men aboard the ship did not know of the disaster until several minutes after it occurred. The blast came at a time when other guns were roaring at the target.

Three officers who died were stationed in a booth immediately behind the breeches of the three rifles. Their chance of escape was even smaller than that of the men, they being located farthest away from the hatches.

Water Leaves Highways; All Routes Are Again Open

Water from the flooded Scioto river that covered the Pacific road, or Scioto Trail, between Picketon and Waverly for two days, making it necessary to use the township detour into Waverly, left the road Thursday night, some motorists driving through several inches of water on the concrete road early last evening. The Scioto Valley motor bus resumed its trips over the main highway last night. This morning the water had fallen more than a foot from the road level. The improved road was not damaged by this high stage.

The Scioto started falling Wednesday night at Picketon and the fall yesterday was more than five feet. At Lucasville, where water covered the road to the depth of several inches, the river became stationary late Thursday afternoon and this morning the water was off the road. With the Ohio falling this morning after reaching a high point of a little over 35 feet, the Scioto is expected to run out fast and within a couple of days the lowlands are expected to be free of water again.

Farmers are expecting to replant as late as June 25 on most of the second level covered by water this time. Parts of the extreme lowlands will not be planted this year.

Dawes Heard His Selection As Vice President Over Radio; Gets Many Congratulatory Telegrams

MARIETTA, O., June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Flooded with hundreds of congratulatory telegrams from all parts of the country and surrounded by his family and the friends of his boyhood, Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, nominated Republican vice presidential candidate last night, is planning to leave Marietta this afternoon for his home in Chicago, where he will make his last visit to his birthplace. He has not been spending a week in Marietta, his birthplace, and boyhood home, renewing old acquaintances, attending the commencement exercises of Marietta College and celebrating with the other surviving members of the class of 1884, of that institution the fortieth anniversary of their graduation.

The nomination came unexpectedly to Mr. Dawes and further than the brief statement of acceptance given to the Associated Press last evening, he had no statement to make this morning.

The notice was bringing a quiet rain in the old Dawes household here with other distinguished members of his family when word of the new honor came to him. With him were his sister, Mrs. Arthur G. Beach, wife of a professor of English of Marietta College, two of his brothers, Henry M. Dawes, Controller of the Currency, of Washington, and Herman G. Dawes, prominent oil man of Columbus, Ohio. A third brother, Rufus C. Dawes, of Chicago, is the head of several large gas companies.

No "Hell and Marins" The first of the nomination came over the radio through which the family circle were listening to the proceedings of the convention. As the landslide of votes started in his direction on the third ballot, the general pulled a little harder on the famous inserted pipe which placed such a prominent part in the recent proceedings of the allied preparations committee, but vouched no "Hell and Marins."

When the voice of the broadcaster announced officially the nomination, his only comment was: "Well, I declare!"

When asked by one of the brothers if he would accept the honor, he answered: "It looks as if they had forced it on me."

The general held a short informal reception to a number of intimate Marietta friends after the nomination, but denied himself to interviewers and refused to talk politics. He retired at an early hour to get some rest against the busy day today.

Hixon Is Candidate

IRONTON, O., June 13.—A. F. Hix-on, former instructor and athletic coach of the Ironton high school, has formally applied for the position of superintendent of the Ironton public schools.

For some time Mr. Hixon has been spoken of as the prospective head of the Ironton schools but it was not until he definitely knew whether or not he would make application as it is understood he is under a 2-year contract with the Urbana, O., schools where he is superintendent and where he has acquired a great record as such an officer.

As far as it can be learned his application is being viewed approvingly by the majority of the board members and it seems in all probability that he will be E. L. Porter's successor.

However, the matter will be definitely decided tonight when the school board meets at the high school for the purpose of selecting a superintendent.

There have been three other applications received for the office, they being:
Floyd M. Huel, principal, Waverly
(O.) schools; J. W. Smith, Williamson,
O.; and J. D. McKinley, of North Washington, Ohio.

LOCAL MAN WAS DESPONDENT

Felt like giving up when nothing relieved his headaches, stomach trouble or regulated his bowels. Is now praising "DRECO" for relief.

The folks at Stewart's Cut Rate
Store where the Dreco Expert is now making his headquarters are all enthusiastic over Dreco for every day they see folks who they've known for years come into the store with great praise for Dreco and what it has done for them.

Mr. Jake Yandke, a well-known farmer of Camp, Portsmouth, Ohio, was in Stewart's not long ago and in the presence of every one made the following surprising statement.

"I'd been ailing for so long I could not remember what it was to feel entirely well. My stomach was bad.
Food soured on me and I was continually belching gas and suffering from indigestion and constipation.
I couldn't sleep at night, had no appetite for food and felt so tired and listless all the time, I had to force myself to go out and work. I tried remedy after remedy and spent lots of money on examinations but nothing ever helped me and I was getting so despondent I wanted to give up."

"Reading of Dreco made me decide to try it and a couple of bottles gave me the surprise of my life. I first noticed that I was not continually belching gas, then I began to get some sleep, my appetite improved and now
I am entirely well. I'm able to get out and do a good day's work on my farm and when I come in I eat and enjoy anything on the table. I'll never stop praising Dreco for I never thought I get well again."

Dreco is quick to act on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and the blood and by removing the causes overcomes the many ills caused by the failure of these organs to function properly.

Call today at Stewart's Drug Store and ask to talk with Mr. O'Connor, the expert from the Dreco Laboratories. He will courteously tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy.
Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you.—Advertisement.

It's what Oakland gives for $995 that counts

Bear these facts in mind in choosing a car:

1. Be sure that the engine in the car you choose incorporates the very latest design and construction.
2. Be sure you get the latest braking system. Four-wheel brakes are safer. Don't buy a car without them.
3. Ordinary body finishes are perishable and easily marred. Get the facts about Oakland's new finish.
4. Observe whether driving controls are convenient. Compare other cars with Oakland in this respect.
5. The tendency is toward a more substantial top for open cars. Examine cars with this point in mind.
6. Although disc steel wheels are superior, most builders in this class make you pay extra for them.
7. Note the body design and workmanship of cars in this class. Are bodies attractive and substantial?

Here are the advantages Oakland offers:

1. Oakland's engine is the last word in advanced design. Automotive engineers praise its construction.
2. The Oakland Six has four-wheel brakes at no added cost. They are sound in principle and practice.
3. Oakland alone, in its class, has a special new finish which will not check nor lose its lustre.
4. Oakland's controls—all of them except gear shift—are on the steering wheel; an exclusive feature.
5. Everyone likes Oakland's permanent top. Curtains fit better and glass enclosures can be added.
6. All True Blue Oaklands have disc steel wheels at no extra cost. They are better looking and safer.
7. Oakland's seven distinctive bodies are Fisher-built. Everyone comments on their smart appearance.

The True Blue Oakland is built and priced to be the leading value in its field.

Elect Officers; Honor Dead

Semi-annual election of officers and holding of their first annual memorial services featured last night's meeting of Ellipse Temple, Pythian Sisters. The election of officers was held during a brief business session before eight o'clock, when the hall was given open to the public for the memorial services.

The election resulted as follows: Mrs. Clarence Kahl, past chief; Mrs. Margaret Hoerel, most excellent chief; Mrs. Lillian Marlow, excellent senior; Mrs. Lenora Lewis, excellent junior; Mrs. Rose Flowers, manager; Mrs. Bertha Englebrecht, protector; Mrs. Mabel Brown, mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs. Elizabeth Elchorn, mistress of finance; Mrs. Anna Flowers, outer guard; Mrs. L. H. Siding, press correspondent; Mrs. Jeanie Kahl, team captain; Mrs. Minnie Cornette, pianist. The new officers take charge at the first meeting in July. Plans were also made for an initiation next week when the officers and team members will wear their new robes for the first time.

At the memorial services Rev. Gerald Culbertson, pastor of the First Christian church, delivered a most appropriate address. The officers had charge of the memorial ritual work, the service being a most fitting one. A committee including Mrs. Margaret Hoerel, Mrs. Clarence Kahl and Mrs. Elizabeth Elchorn, was appointed to decorate the graves of departed members. They visited Greenwood cemetery this morning and decorated the graves.

Two Perish in Accidents

CLEVELAND, O., June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Two men are dead here today as the result of accidents late yesterday. Andrew Daley was killed when several tons of dirt fell on him while he was building a tunnel from a cellar at his home. Jefferson Lee met death when police say, the head of a boiler at the Max G. K. Manufacturing Company blew out. Steven, the only employee, narrowly escaped injury.

Bowlers To Banquet At Washington Tonight

Tonight at 6:30 o'clock in the dining room of the Washington hotel, members of the Masonic Bowling League will gather for their annual banquet, fun festival and business meeting.

The banquet is first on the program, and promises to be everything that the enthusiasts gathering around the festal board can expect with the few extra large quotas of enjoyment for the "inner man," thrown in.

The business meeting will be held for purpose of electing officers and awarding prizes for winners during the past season, which was one of the most successful in the history of the league.

Postmaster Maurice A. Coe will then assume the job of running things and under his capable direction a thoroughly enjoyable evening is sure to result, according to members of the league who remember his past activities in adding the success of league functions.

Coolidge Sends Message To Gen. Dawes

WASHINGTON, June 13.—By the A. P.—President Coolidge last night sent a message of felicitation to Charles G. Dawes, selected as his running mate on the Republican ticket.

"It will be a pleasure," the president said, "to be associated with you in the public service. Best wishes to you and Mrs. Dawes in which Mrs. Coolidge joins."

President Coolidge received notification that Mr. Dawes had accepted through The Associated Press, and immediately dictated his message of congratulations. With Mrs. Coolidge, Dr. J. T. Boone, a White House physician, and Edward T. Clark, his private secretary, he had listened by radio to the proceedings of the Cleveland convention throughout the evening.

During the day he had in the same manner heard himself acclaimed and had listened to the remarks of Frank O. Lowden, and the latter's refusal to accept.

With the convention adjourned Mr. Coolidge delayed making any comment until he was informed that Mr. Dawes had agreed to take a place on the ticket and it was after 11 o'clock, when he dictated his telegram. He had declined to express himself on his own nomination and that of Mr. Lowden, although the latter, as well as Mr. Dawes, whom he regards highly was known to be very acceptable to the White House.

Hoover Sends Congratulations
WASHINGTON, June 13.—Secretary Hoover when notified of General Dawes' selection, congratulated him on his nomination for the vice-presidency last night in the following message:

"I am more than happy at your selection and the assurance of your being again drafted to public service. The country is to be congratulated."

Lowden Blest Over Dawes Selection
CHICAGO, Ill., June 13.—Mr. Lowden was in communication with the Chicago office of the United Press by long distance phone during the third ballot. As each state voted he knew the result as quickly as did the delegates in the convention hall at Cleveland.

When General Dawes' vote reached the necessary total of 555 votes Mr. Lowden declared:

"That's fine. The convention could not have selected a better man," and then issued his brief congratulatory statement.

Escaped Convict Blamed for Holdup

NEW YORK, June 13.—(By the United Press)—Federal authorities and the police today are searching for Gerald Chapman, escaped convict in connection with the holdup and robbery of a mail truck in down town New York yesterday in which $100,000 in cash was taken.

The search for Chapman was started after federal authorities noted the plans were carried out in the same manner as the mail hold up in 1921 in which Chapman with his gang took $2,000,000 in securities. Chapman was sentenced to the Atlanta prison, but escaped and has been a fugitive since then.

TOOK CARDUI TO BUILD UP

Georgia Lady Says She's Sure of the Merit of Cardui, Having Taken It for 25 Years, Whenever Needed

Ellijay, Ga.—A quarter of a century of Cardui taken on many different occasions when needed, is reported by Mrs. Thomas H. Kell, a nearby resident.

"When I was a girl of 13," said Mrs. Kell, "my mother gave me Cardui as a tonic, with very good results."

Mrs. Kell explained that her second use of Cardui came after her marriage, shortly before she became a mother. "I needed something to build me up," she said, "and I immediately sent and got a bottle of Cardui. I took it regularly before the birth of every one of my children, and I have always gotten along well at that time."

"My last two babies were twins, and before they came I grew very weak. I could scarcely get around to my work. I got Cardui and took it and kept it up. I never went to bed and am sure the Cardui did it."

"My health is very good now. I recovered my strength quickly after the twins came and this I attribute to the use of Cardui."

Cardui is a safe, purely vegetable, medicinal tonic medicine, proved valuable in helping to relieve thousands of cases of womanly weakness, such as Mrs. Kell describes above.

Features of Yesterday's Games

NEW YORK, June 13.—Thanks to the weatherman and the weakness of the Braves' pitching staff, the Chicago Cubs are today snapping at the heels of the Giants. While rain prevented New York from meeting the Reds, Chicago defeated Boston, 9 to 5 yesterday and pulled up to within half a game of the National League yesterday. Rain also caused the postponement of the St. Louis-Brooklyn and Pittsburgh-Philadelphia contests.

In the American League the Yankees and Red Sox, by pounding out victories over Detroit and Cleveland, respectively, continued to run neck and neck. Led by Ruth, who registered his fifteenth homer of the season with one on base, the Yankees gained revenge for their defeat of Wednesday to the tune of 10 to 4.

Boston found Coreleskie to their liking and won a 4 to 3 decision over the Indians, thereby evening up the series. Thurston chalked up his ninth victory of the season as the White Sox defeated the Athletics 5 to 3.

Rain prevented the Washington-St. Louis clash.

This Prescription For Kidneys

No Drugs—Just Roots and Herbs

6 Ounce Bottle, 75c

Years ago Dr. Carey said, "When backache comes get after your kidneys—and don't waste any time."

"Right at the start, go to your druggist and ask for Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777; take it as directed until backache ceases and your eyes are clear and bright."

For more than 40 years Dr. Carey specialized in diseases of the kidney and bladder, and when, in the height of his remarkable life, he decided to dispense his most effective kidney and bladder prescription through the better druggists, he helped thousands who could not afford to go to him for treatment.

"Thousands of unlucky people have kidney ailments and never know it until too late. High colored urine, getting up in the night, and puffy eyes tell the story. If you even suspect—start today with Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777. It will drive the poisons from your kidneys and your druggist knows all about it."

Healer & Streich's pharmacy dispenses lots of it. It comes both in liquid and tablet form. It will help you as it has a host of others. If it should be of any use to you in one week's time that you bought it, money gladly returned—and only 75c.—Advertisement.

Against Gravel Roads

The sentiment in Jackson county is strong against gravel roads, and the taxpayers favor hard surface roads that will stand the traffic and be comfortable to drive on at all seasons, without the stifling dust that gravel roads afford. Jackson county is therefore not seeking any portion of the allotment of 930 miles of gravel roads proposed in the program of State Highway Director L. A. Boulay as announced yesterday.—Wellston Stentinel.

GOVERNOR DONAHEY GRANTS PARDON TO FRED DAVIS AFTER CLEMENCY BOARD RECEIVES LETTER FROM JUDGE J. S. THOMAS

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 13.—Friday, the thirteenth, was not an unlucky day for Fred (Peg) Davis, colored citizen of Portsmouth.

On the contrary it was the luckiest day in his life for he walked out of the Ohio Penitentiary today, a free man, receiving an unconditional pardon from Governor Vic Donahey, following a letter he received from the Board of Clemency. The board requested the pardon, after it had received a letter from Judge J. S. Thomas, of Portsmouth, who stated that the evidence upon which Davis was found guilty was very flimsy. Judge Thomas' request for a pardon for Davis was concurred in by former Prosecuting Attorney George W. Sheppard, who prosecuted Davis. Davis had been sent to the pen for ten years, after being found guilty of stealing one dollar.

In recommending the pardon of Davis, the Board of Clemency sent to Governor Donahey the following letter:

Hon. Vic Donahey, Governor of Ohio, Columbus.

Dear Governor:

In re: Fred Davis, No. 51453, O. P. Davis was convicted of robbery at the September, 1922, term of the Court of Common Pleas, of Scioto County, and was admitted to the penitentiary December 14, 1922. Sentence, 10-25.

Conscience is a queer thing. The writer has never been able to fully understand its uneven apportionment among us. But at any rate, in varying degree, we all have it and it helps to keep man's moral compass pointed toward the pole. This intangible thing is the moral sense which enables us to distinguish between right and wrong. Conscience is a high attribute of humanity—it differentiates us from the animals that lack this stabilizing, rectifying force. It points the way to righteousness.

The attached letter, which comes to us from Judge James S. Thomas and George W. Sheppard, President and Attorney, of Scioto County, illustrates the point. Here is what they have to say:

"In December, 1922, I sentenced, a one-legged colored man by the name of Fred Davis, to the Ohio Penitentiary on a charge of robbery for one year, forgetting that the minimum sentence was ten years. If that fact had occurred to me I should have given him a suspended sentence. The evidence on which he was convicted was very flimsy. The prosecuting witness testified that the defendant had pushed him against the fence and taken by force one dollar from him. Since I have had to sentence the prosecuting witness to the penitentiary, I have never felt satisfied about this sentence imposed on Davis and I am writing to your excellency on my own initiative, asking for his pardon. The prosecuting attorney acquiesces in the request. The fellow has no influential friends to intercede for him. I hope that you will grant this application."

(Signed) J. S. Thomas.

I heartily concur in what Judge Thomas has said and recommend a pardon for Mr. Davis.

(Signed) George W. Sheppard, Former Prosecuting Attorney.

The statement of the judge and the story the prisoner tells are in harmony—it was a one-dollar theft. The prisoner says he was given a dollar by the prosecuting witness who with to buy booting whiskey, and he stole the dollar. The prosecuting witness says the dollar was taken by force—the judge tells us the prosecuting evidence was "flimsy."

Coming back to the preamble of this story, it is more than small wonder that there is a twinging of the conscience of the court? Perhaps a workhouse sentence would have been sufficient in this case; certainly this Ohio Penitentiary sentence, equating a second degree murder term, evidences the fact that exact justice in this world is still over at the place where the end of the rainbow comes down.

Dear Governor, please ease the conscience of the court—and ours. Let this colored, crippled, one-legged prisoner go home and report as if on parole for one year.

Respectfully submitted,
Ohio Board of Clemency.
(Signed) By Price Russell and Dan W. Williams.

Read Our Alaska
Refrigerator Ad —
A Month's Supply Of Ice Free With Every Refrigerator

Why DOES THE ALASKA SAVE MORE ICE?

In the heart of Alaska walls you find the answer

Look into the Cork-Wall Window. See with your own eyes the Pebbled Cork Wall that saves your ice.

The other reason is our full-ice-sweep system of dry-air circulation. In the cold, clean chambers of the Alaska the air is constantly in motion. It is very thoroughly chilled and dried. In this crisp air foods "keep" better. There is less food waste. The ice lasts longer. Ice bills are lower.

See The Cork That Saves The Ice

We invite you to visit our store. Ask us to show you the new cork-wall window—a feature now built into every genuine Alaska Cork-Insulated Refrigerator. Through this little window, as if it were a little X-Ray, you can actually see the cork that saves the ice. This is an exclusive feature, found only on our cork-insulated refrigerators. It is a better guaranty than any we could write.

One Month's Ice FREE!

By special arrangement with the Stockham Co. we are able to make the above offer. When you buy your "Alaska" whether for cash or easy payments the Stockham Co. will immediately be notified to fill your refrigerator and will deliver to you an ice book calling for 666 pounds of ice.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY WILL SPEND HUGE SUM ON EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS

$608,180.00 will be spent in the Portsmouth Public Service Co. according to announcement made yesterday by Vice President and General manager, H. G. Bonner. Included in the proposed improvements are: Expenditure of $313,000 to complete improvements to power plant at New Boston.

Extension of power and light service to West Portsmouth, Fullerton and South Portsmouth.

Replacing of track and roadbed on Second street.

Extension of interurban service to the Marting Hotel, Ironton.

Addition of three new cars to present city system.

Addition of three new cars to interurban system.

A number of minor improvements and additions to equipment and stock of the company.

Will Complete Big Improvement

"To date," Mr. Bonner explained in discussing the improvement to the power plant at New Boston "there has been $352,000 spent in improving this plant. Of this amount, the former owners, The Portsmouth Street Railway and Light Co., spent $200,000. Since taking over the plant about Sept. 30, the Portsmouth Public Service Co. has spent $152,000. Added to this, the company will spend $343,000, bringing the total spent in improvements on this plant since Sept. 30 up to $495,000, and bringing the grand total spent in improvements at this plant to $695,000.

"We are replacing the present boiler room equipment with new equipment and increasing the generating capacity 5,000 kilowatts.

Extension of Service

"The item under extension of service provides for the extension of power and light service to West Portsmouth and the Country Club, and to Fullerton and South Portsmouth. It is a pleasure to the company to expand with Portsmouth. When we came here, we appreciated the growing possibilities of the community. In the few months since we came, there have been unusual growth manifestations.

"We propose to extend the light and power service to the portion of Portsmouth which lies across the Scioto river, going out as far as the new Country Club, and then to provide service to another growing section of greater Portsmouth, across the Ohio river in Kentucky. Our budget includes extension of service to Fullerton and South Portsmouth.

Second Street Improvement

"Our budget," Mr. Bonner continued, "also includes an item for the improvement of the roadbed and track in Second street. We have previously explained our attitude in this matter. We are willing to put in a permanent improvement—concrete base and roadbed and new steel rails—if the city makes a permanent improvement of the street.

"This matter has not yet been fully settled by council," Mr. Bonner continued, "but we are ready to go ahead when their decision is made."

Ironton Improvement

Included in the proposed list of improvements which by virtue of action by the directors have now reached the stage of near accomplishment, is the extension of the interurban line to the Marting Hotel in Ironton. When this is accomplished, interurban cars will run from the Washington hotel, Portsmouth, to the Marting hotel, Ironton.

"We have not yet concluded this deal," Mr. Bonner explained, "and it may be a matter of several months before all of the right of way, and permission necessary is obtained, but we believe the negotiations are in such shape that we can announce that the proposed extension will be a reality in the not distant future."

Additional Equipment

The budget also provides for additional equipment to the extent of six new cars, three for use on the city lines and three for interurban use. "These cars," Mr. Bonner said, "will be of the very latest type of construction, and will be ordered as soon as our plans can be completed."

Machine Plunges Down Embankment; Two Hurt

Mr. and Mrs. George Vallas of the Brunswick Hotel were injured and Paul Abrams and Pete Vallas, of the same place, had narrow escapes from injury Thursday afternoon when a Dodge touring car, driven by Paul Abrams, left the West Side road in front of Clarendon and turned over twice in going down an embankment. The machine was rented from the Independent Taxi company and was damaged to the extent of about $100.

George Vallas sustained serious and deep cuts about the head and face while Mrs. Vallas, who has not been in good health suffered greatly from shock and serious bruises.

According to George Vallas, who is proprietor of the Brunswick hotel and restaurant, they were coming toward Portsmouth, and turned out in the road to pass another machine. As they were turning out and passing Abrams, who was driving, was forced to turn quickly to the left and put on his brakes to avoid striking a machine going west. In the sand the car skidded and plunged over the embankment.

The machine after plunging down the embankment came to a stop near the N. & W. tracks and an approaching freight train had to be stopped until the machine could be moved away from the rail.

For the Emergency Shelf

To meet the problem of unexpected guests at meal times, I recommend an "Emergency Shelf." On this I have materials which enable me to prepare an attractive and ample meal in fifteen or twenty minutes, though my ice box may be empty.

Such a shelf should contain tinned chéese, canned soups, tomatoes, corn, lima beans, salmon, tuna fish, shrimps, sardines, mushrooms, spaghetti, curry, Carnation Milk, onion seasoning, rice (for this is quickly cooked and can be added to a small amount of left-over meat for a curry), jars of fruit, marmalade, jelly and relishes, cocoa, chocolate and small jars of staples, loaf sugar, granulated sugar, coffee and tea.

That you may never be without these necessities when company comes, the cardinal rule of this shelf is that it is not to be touched except for emergencies and afterwards at once replenished. Try establishing an Emergency Shelf and you will wonder how you ever did without it.

Creamed Salmon

2 cups salmon, 2 cups Thin White Sauce. Flake the fish, add to hot Thin White Sauce and serve on toast. This recipe serves six people.

Creamed Lobster

1 1/2 cups lobster, 1 1/2 cups Thin White Sauce, 1/2 tsp. lemon juice, seasoning to taste. Add diced lobster, seasonings and lemon juice to Thin White Sauce. Serve on toast. This recipe serves six people.

Thin White Sauce

2 tbs. flour, 2 tbs. butter or substitute, 1/2 tsp. salt, 3/4 cup water, 1/2 cup Carnation Milk. Melt butter or butter substitute, add flour and stir until thoroughly mixed. Add the milk, diluted with water, and cook about five minutes or until the mixture thickens, and add seasonings. This recipe makes one cup of sauce.

After reaching a high mark of a little more than 35 feet in the Portsmouth district last night, the Ohio river started to fall and the water had dropped back to 34.2 feet here Friday morning when the stream continued to recede. The river was running out rather slowly today but the fall of the water is expected to be more rapid tonight and Saturday. The river is expected to be back within its own banks by Sunday or possibly soon.

Mrs. Ethel Wright had charge of the club study for the evening. Miss Rosina Meyers of Dayton, O., formerly a resident of this city, favored the club by giving an account of her recent trip abroad. Severe Quakes In The Balkans

ROME, June 13.—(By the United Press)—Croat newspapers today announced that several earthquakes have been felt in the Balkan Peninsula since Monday, especially at Cech Mesenja, in the Bosnia-Herzegovina district, where several buildings collapsed and scores of their occupants were killed.

The populations of the shaken towns are camping in the woods. The center of the disturbances apparently is in the vicinity of Mostar, thus the prediction of Professor Bendani, Italian seismologist, is fulfilled.

Mr. Frederick Steahly, Proprietor of Steahly's Dry Goods Company, One Of Our Most Prominent Merchants, In A Signed Statement Made for Publication, Indorses and Recommends Pegen, the Famous Medicine Now Being Introduced at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy. The Statement Follows:

"This medicine Pegen, that is being introduced by J. E. Young at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, has been of such benefit to my wife that I am confident it is a valuable remedy, and I take pleasure in recommending it to my fellow townsmen.

"For some time my wife has been in a run down and nervous condition. Her chief trouble was with her stomach. She seemed to have a chronic case of indigestion. After her meals she would complain of pains in her stomach. Her appetite was very poor and she became quite nervous.

"She tried various remedies and we have spent over two thousand dollars on operations, but nothing that she did gave her any lasting relief. I was becoming quite worried

"I am so thoroughly convinced of the unquestioned merit of Pegen that I take pleasure in recommending it to others. It is an excellent remedy."

Jackson May Enter Senatorial Race

JACKSON, June 13.—(Special)—Friends of Frederick B. Jones of Broadway, this city, were predicting last night he would be a candidate for the republican nomination for state senator, to succeed Senator Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton.

Mr. Jones has not definitely decided to run at a late hour today, but was considered in a receptive mood. He is a brother of John D. Jones, delegate from the Tenth district to the national republican convention; and of the late Edwin Jones, former republican state chairman, and one time candidate for governor.

Mr. Jones, if he files today for state senator, will be the fourth to declare himself since the withdrawal from the race of Senator Jenkins the first part of the week. Jos. T. McKelthwait, former prosecuting attorney of Scioto County, declared his candidacy yesterday, being the third to file. J. O. McManis of West Union and John Innes of Ironton are the other two candidates.

Court House

Prowler In Garden Arrested

Deputy Sheriff James Keyser and Frank Luther responded to a hurried call to the Whigsworthy vicinity last night and took into custody a man picking the name of Allen Crabtree, who was detained by W. T. Mauck, when caught by the latter prowling in his garden on the Mayport road.

Mauck told the officers that Crabtree and a companion attacked him when he demanded to know what they were doing in his garden and, during the altercation, one of the men escaped. Crabtree appeared to be under the influence of liquor when brought to the county jail and locked up.

Judge Thomas Coming Home

Judge J. S. Thomas is expected to arrive home tonight from Cleveland, where he went to attend to some court matters and, incidentally, take in the sights at the G. O. P. convention, which closed last night. The judge was accompanied to the Forest City by his cousin, General Wittenmayer, U. S. A., retired, of Peables.

Charges Cruelty; Seeks Divorce

Alleging cruelty and declaring that he is extremely jealous of her, without cause, Dorothy Deltz Taylor seeks divorce and alimony, with custody of their minor child, Janice, one year old, in an action instituted Friday in Common Pleas Court against Lewis Sanford Taylor, employed by the Ice Cream and Bottling Company, whom she married in August, 1922.

Plaintiff, in her petition, filed through Attorney Mark Crawford, says that Taylor objects to her leaving the house unless he is along, wants her to remain at home constantly and she complains that, for a long time he has quarreled with her without cause, mistreated their infant child on a number of occasions and plaintiff asserts he whipped her when the baby was but four weeks old. She further says that because of his misconduct and abuse she was obliged to leave with him on June 9, and returned to the home of her mother. She secured a temporary injunction restraining Taylor from molesting her or interfering with her in any way until the case can be heard on its merits.

Held For Delinquency

Sam Bush, 15, was the name of a youth taken into custody Friday by railroad detectives and brought to the juvenile ward at the county jail to answer to a delinquency complaint.

Seeks Divorce and Other Relief

On the grounds of cruelty, neglect and infidelity, Ella Perkins, 50 Boundary street, seeks divorce and alimony with custody of their two minor children, Attie S. and Helen G. In her suit filed Friday in Common Pleas court, against Ernest Perkins, whom she married in November, 1915.

Plaintiff in her petition says that Perkins has assaulted, beat and otherwise abused her, accused her of being unchaste and declares that he has demanded that she take in washings while he is squandering his earnings upon other women, and in riotous living. Through Attorneys Blair & Blair she accuses Perkins of misconduct with one Anna Belle Caudill.

Plaintiff further says that Perkins is employed as a bootmaker employed at the X. W. shops and earns $150 a month and she secured a temporary injunction from disposing of his Ford automobile and restraining him from abusing, threatening or annoying her.

Mrs. Vincent Seeks Divorce, Etc.

Beatrice Vincent, 920 Twelfth street, charges cruelty and habitual drunkenness in her suit for divorce and alimony with custody of their minor child, 8 years old, instituted Friday in Common Pleas court, against Charles Vincent, whom she married on April 10, 1913.

Plaintiff in her petition, filed through Attorneys Blair & Blair complains that Vincent has cursed and abused her, falsely accused her of being unchaste and associating with other men, besides, she alleges, he stays out late at night and squanders his earnings in riotous living. She further says that Vincent is a bricklayer, employed at the Portsmouth Works, Wheeling Steel Corporation, and earns from $200 to $300 a month, besides, she claims, he owns a Chevrolet automobile. A temporary injunction was allowed to issue restraining Vincent from abusing plaintiff and enjoying him from disposing of his property.

Held by Special Commissioner

Judge A. T. Holcomb, special commissioner, heard the evidence in the divorce suit of Lenora Philharty against Omar Philharty in Common Pleas court Friday and then continued the case to report his finding to Judge Thomas for final decision.

She said they were married at Maysville, Ky., on May 26, 1917, and she alleged cruelty and infidelity, declaring that Philharty on various occasions while she lived with him beat and assaulted her and threatened her life besides, she asserted, he associated with other women and she named one Corrine Coleman and that because of his misconduct and abuse she claimed that she was compelled and did leave him last February.

Philharty on the stand in his own behalf denied her charges and accused her of manifesting no interest in their two children, Viola and Anna, 5 and 4 years old, and declared she does not now desire to be burdened with their care. He asked for the divorce and custody of the children.

Attorney S. Anselm Skelton for the wife and Attorney B. F. Kimble for Philharty.

Local Firms Asked To Bid

Sealed proposals for groceries, meat, bread, milk, tea and laundry supplies will be received until Tuesday, June 24, 2 p. m. at U. S. Veterans Hospital No. 97 at Chillicothe, Ohio. Local firms are urged to bid.

The 147th anniversary of Flag Day will be celebrated tomorrow and homes and business houses are asked to display "Old Glory" from sunrise to sunset. There will be little demonstration because the schools are not in session and the observance of the day usually centers in the schools.

Sh-h-h, Friday, the 13th

Friday the 13th. Beware! Don't go out in the moonlight if you don't want to get sentimental. Don't step in front of a moving automobile, it might hit you. Don't listen in on your neighbor's telephone line, you might hear something about yourself. Don't go out without your umbrella, it might rain. Otherwise, go on about your business in your usual way, for Friday the 13th is just as good a day for business as any other, provided your proposition is a good one.

Oratorical and Special Sermons Sunday's Program At Second Presbyterian

The choir of the Second Presbyterian church will sing Sullivan's beautiful oratorio, "The Prodigal Son," on Sunday, at the hour of evening worship. This universally admired work has never before been heard in Portsmouth. The music is rich in oriental color and tuneful as is all of Sullivan's music.

The soloists will be Miss Cleo Resler, soprano, recently of the Cincinnati Conservatory, whose appearances from time to time are meeting with increasing favor. Mrs. C. E. Nodder, alto, and Mr. Clyde Knost, baritone, are well known to us. Mr. Knost has sung his solo role in "The Prodigal Son" with emphatic success in Cincinnati. Mr. H. K. D. Martin, Huntington's leading tenor, will appear in the title role. Rev. W. B. Phelps at the morning services will preach on the subject, "Your Fling and My Fling." In addition he will continue his series of junior sermons.

At the evening services during the oratorio, he will deliver a meditation, "The Prodigal Son."

Following is the program for the oratorio:

Organ Introduction.

Chorus—"There Is Joy in the Presence of the Angels of God."

Soprano Solo—"A Certain Man Had Two Sons"—Miss Resler.

Bass Recitative and Aria—"My Son, Attend to My Words"; "Trust in the Lord"—Mr. Knost.

Soprano Recitative—"And the Younger Son"—Miss Resler.

Tenor Solo and Chorus—"Let Us Eat and Drink"—Mr. Martin.

Soprano Recitative and Chorus—"Woe Unto Them"—Miss Resler.

Alto Solo—"Love Not the World"—Mrs. Nodder.

Soprano Recitative and Aria—"And When He Had Spent All"; "O That Thou Hadst Heeded"—Miss Resler.

Tenor Solo—"How Many Hired Servants"—Mr. Martin.

Chorus—"The Sacrifices of God"; "Doxology, Offertory, Prayer, Meditation"—"Face to Face With Reality"—Luke 15:17—Wm. Horatio Phelps.

Soprano Recitative—"And He Arose and Came to His Father"—Miss Resler.

Tenor and Bass Duet—"Father, I Have Sinned"—Mr. Martin, Mr. Knost.

Bass Recitative and Aria—"Bring Forth the Best Robe"; "For This, My Son, Was Dead"—Mr. Knost.

Chorus—"O That Men Would Praise the Lord"—Miss Resler.

Tenor Recitative and Aria—"No Chastening"; "Come, Ye Children"—Mr. Martin.

Chorus—"Then, O Lord, Art Our Father."

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bernard Augustin
Grandmother Augustin, whose memory will be sweet and fragrant so long as her adopted city endures, left this world yesterday to be forever safe in the arms of her Master, where peace and sleep are everlasting. Mrs. Augustin, one of the city's most highly respected and beloved women, answered the final summons at her home, Front and Court streets, infirmities bringing the final call in a most peaceful manner. She had been bedridden for only ten days and at no time during this period was her condition considered critical. At 4:25 o'clock Thursday afternoon, her soul winged its way into the Unknown World.

Grandmother Augustin as she was known by many, had lived in Portsmouth for many years, ever since she came to this city from her native home across the seas. Her acquaintances were legion and her hundreds of friends will learn of her passing with genuine regret.

Mrs. Anna Schleinbege Augustin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schleinbege, celebrated her 90th birthday anniversary this last February 21.

Miss Anna Schleinbege was born in a suburb of Meppen, in the Castle of Danken, by Versserer, which was the home of her parents for many years. She was married to Mr. Augustin on the third day of November 1887. Mr. Augustin came to America in 1870 and brought his family to the United States. They settled in Portsmouth and always made this city their home. In Germany many Mr. Augustin was in the glassware manufacturing business, but in this city engaged in the wholesale grocery business from which he retired in 1906. He passed away November 10, 1917 in this city.

Surviving this union are four children: Bernard Augustin, Jr., of Gallia and Glover streets, Joseph Augustin of Fourth street, Miss Mary Augustin and Mrs. Anna Streiber at home. There are also twelve grandchildren and nine great grandchildren. Frank Schleinbege, of Jacksonville who also leaves a half sister, Miss Elizabeth Schleinbege, of Hannover, Germany.

Mrs. Augustin was a member of St. Mary's church for many years. She was a member of the Altar and Rosary Society and the Society for the Propagation of Faith.

Funeral services will be held from St. Mary's church Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock with Father T. A. Goebel in charge. The body will be laid to rest in Greenlawn.

William Jennings Ward
William Jennings Ward, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ward, 1112 Front street, died at his home at 11 o'clock last night after an illness of about two weeks due to acute indigestion. Mr. Ward was a surveyor, employed by the county, and leaves a host of friends who will mourn his death.

William Jennings Ward was born in Portsmouth March 24, 1893. He attended the public schools here and then took up the study of surveying through a correspondence course. For some time he has been the support of his mother and four younger brothers and sister. He is survived by his father and mother, one sister, Mrs. Ruth Skelton, three brothers, Frank, Raymond and Forest Ward, all of Portsmouth; a cousin, Mrs. Emma Reeves, of Cincinnati. Other local relatives are George Carter, an uncle; Mrs. Maymie Irwin, a cousin; and two aunts, Mrs. Charles Stamm and Mrs. Elsie Hennig.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 from the late home, with Walter Bagby of the Christian church officiating. Interment will be in Greenlawn.

William J. Davis
OAK HILL, June 13.—Funeral services for the late William J. Davis were held in Wellston and were in charge of Black Diamond Lodge, F. & A. M. of Wellston.

Mr. Davis was Superintendent of Mines at Pyro, a short distance from Oak Hill, for several years and during that time made his home here. He was of a genial disposition and his many friends will be sorry to learn of his death. He is survived by his widow one daughter and four sons; also one sister, Mrs. John Owens of Columbus, and four brothers, James, Steve and Dan, of Wellston, and Thomas in West Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Davis and family formerly lived at Wellston. Among those from Oak Hill who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Next Davis and daughter, Mary Margaret, I. N. Evans and daughter, Miss Katharine, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Morgan and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Davis, Mrs. Isaac O. Jones and son Wendell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis and daughter Elizabeth, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Davis and family of Sardinia, Wm. Jenkins, John Jenkins, Steve Lewis, R. N. Edwards and Moffat Edwards.

Mrs. Sprague, who was about 74 years old, passed away at her home after being in a critical condition several weeks, during most of which time Judge Sprague has been at her bedside. She has been in poor health for about a year.

Her husband, Austin E. Sprague, passed away about 15 years ago. Judge Sprague will remain in Columbus until after the funeral, which will be held Saturday.

Local Men Back From Convention

August Doll and Arthur J. Gerlach who represented the local court of the Catholic Order of Foresters have returned from the Ohio State convention at Dayton. It was held in the Gilbous Hotel, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Doll was honored as a member of the state law committee and Mr. Gerlach was appointed as an inner guard for the convention sessions.

Since this organization had to undergo a readjusting period in the last two years the reports of the various state officers showed the order to be on a solid foundation. Each of the 125 members present representing each court in the state agreed, upon returning to their respective homes, to carry out the slogan adopted to double their membership. At the regular election of new officers A. A. Horstman was unanimously chosen as the next state chief ranger. Cincinnati was selected for the next convention.

But "Cool With Coolidge"

CLEVELAND, O., June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—It's going to be a "Keep Cool With Coolidge" campaign and not a "Rage Hell's Maria With Daves" sort of fight.

That decision was reached today by the Coolidge managers immediately after the reorganization of the Republican National Committee with Wm. M. Butler, of Massachusetts, at its head.

Complete plans will not be announced until after Butler confers with the president at Washington early next week. But it was definitely settled that there would be no "Swing Around The Circle" for Coolidge and no fireworks from General Charles G. Dawes, the Republican nominee for vice president.

"You have read the happenings at the Republican convention and you will easily understand that I did not expect this nomination, but it has come and I have gratefully accepted, resolved that whatever it entails I will do my best. The fact that the Buick Motor Company has been manufacturing automobiles successfully for a period of twenty years has a particular significance to anyone who is contemplating the purchase of a motor car.

Buick models for nineteen twenty-four are a revelation to those who have followed Buick development in the past.

Some of the engineering advances which these cars offer to the motorist prove, better than anything else can do that Buick has looked ahead into the automobile future.

In short, these new Buick cars represent the type of advancement for which every motorist is seeking, because the improvements which are found in them are the result of scientific research and not simply a number of changes that have been made for the sake of having something new to offer.

In pioneering four-wheel brakes, Buick is following the same policy as when it adopted the Valve-in-Head principle of motor design.

In both cases it is the application of the principle for every day use that requires designing and manufacturing skill, and the four-wheel brakes have been incorporated into the Buick car with as much simplicity and success as the Valve-in-Head principle has been developed in its engine.

There are other improvements that are just as constructive as those described and together they give to the Buick owner advantages not to be had elsewhere.

Bandits

Several discarded masks, a bottle of nitroglycerine, and a quantity of dynamite were found discarded at the side of the track after the robbery. "These and a deep pool of blood, evidently from the wounded bandit, were the only tangible clues the robbers left."

More than 500 armed men quickly were out to work on the robbery. They included every available agent of the Milwaukee road, all the postoffice inspectors of the Chicago and Milwaukee offices, squads of police from Chicago and Milwaukee and a number of possees.

Explanation of the leaders interest in obtaining the mail pouch for (Montana, was obtained today when it was learned that it contained a large sum in currency.

This was divulged by A. E. Gerner, chief postoffice inspector here as the postal inspectors and police were rounding up and questioning some 25 suspects seized by the police.

Entire Train Crew Questioned

MILWAUKEE, WIS., June 13.—(By the United Press)—Nearly all of the crew of seventy mail clerks and others of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul mail train robbed near Round-out, Ill., last night, were taken to the federal building for questioning when the train arrived here today.

Postal inspectors said the whole affair looked like "an inside job." All members of the crew of the robbed train reside in Milwaukee. They are: Steve Waite, engineer; E. J. Bidler, fireman; James Sweetney, conductor; Sandy McRae, flagman, and Henry Van de Lind, brakeman.

Of the seventy mail clerks on the train, only six were affected by the fumes of the bombs exploded in the cars.

When the train pulled into Milwaukee at midnight, one hour and fifteen minutes late, it was met by 50 detectives, United States postal agents and railroad officials.

A search of the second mail car revealed that one of the bottles of colorless liquid, which the robbers had thrown into the car had not exploded. It is being analyzed.

"This robbery is the biggest ever made on a railroad system," said M. T. Thurber, chief agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road.

"Every federal agent and every railroad man in the northwest started on the man hunt within an hour from the time we knew of the robbery."

The train carried 1,500 mail pouches, it was said, including 350 pouches of first-class mail and forty odd pouches of registered mail. All the registered mail pouches were taken by the robbers.

Engine Crew Now To Experience Engineer Waite, in telling of the robbery, said he overheard one robber say to Fireman Bidler, "We're going to get the soldiers' bonus. We want that money and we're going to get it tonight and not wait twenty years."

Engineer Waite said that the first indication he had that anything out of the ordinary was in progress was when he felt someone slide into the seat beside him. "Something hard was produced into my back," he said. "I turned to look into the face of a hard-shelled fellow who ordered me to stop the train. Fireman Bidler was covered also."

Waite said he stopped the train and obeyed orders.

Fireman Bidler said he was inclined to fight until he heard shots. He said that the robbers took the engine crew to a point in front of one of their automobiles and guarded them there.

Sandy McRae was surprised when he walked to the rear of the train and was met by a robber who had been hiding in the rear coach. "He confronted me," McRae said, "and ordered me to the ground and then escorted me to the rear of the train and lined me up with the rest of the boys."

B. W. Jeffrey, a mail clerk, declared that the men in his car intended to protect their mail pouches and did so until the robbers let go the gas attack.

"We turned out the lights and concealed ourselves," Jeffrey said. "Some one pounded on the door and said 'come out, or we'll shoot.' They did begin firing but that failed to bring us. Then something crashed through one of the windows and a voice from the outside announced, 'now you'll come out.' The air in the car became stifling and tears rolled down our faces. We had to unbolt the doors and get out, as we could not stand it. The robbers promised not to shoot if we came out without resistance. We were not in much shape to resist after the gas attack."

R. M. Peterson, another mail clerk, told how the robbers looted the mail cars. "After we had been lined up against the side of the car," he said, "a middle-aged fellow wearing a white cap, who seemed to be the leader, ordered one of our men into the middle car with him and made him point out the registered mail sacks and throw them in the car. When this was done we were required to lead them into automobiles. When the sacks were loaded into the machines, the robbers, after warning us not to follow them, turned their cars toward Chicago."

Judge Halbert Says Officials Associate With Bootleggers

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Hidden meanness is fast demoralizing the rising generations, and some Lloyd county officials associate too frequently with bootleggers and partake too freely of the stock in trade of those bootleggers and moonshiners, according to the final report of the Lloyd county grand jury which has been in session here for the last two weeks.

Judge Halbert has extended the present term of criminal court until June 16 in order to take care of the heavy docket which could not be cleared in time for adjournment Saturday as originally contemplated.

Part of the report made by the jury follows:

"We find, with few exceptions, that the officials of the county are competent, and obliging, yet there are some who associate too frequently with bootleggers and moonshiners. Our attention has been called to the conduct of all officials, and evidence has been introduced to lead us to believe that some of these officials have manners entirely unbecoming gentlemen in the positions they occupy. If a man has been elected to a position of honor in his county, he should act with a dignity in keeping with his duties. We have not found enough evidence for conviction in all cases, but we have heard enough testimony to enable us to conservatively make these criticisms."

Durand Files Declaration Of Candidacy For Governor

COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—(By the Associated Press)—C. Homer Durand, of Coshocton, today filed his declaration of candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor bringing the list of formal entrants to eight.

Durand who sought the nomination two years ago on a light wine and beer platform, declared in a statement made public with the filing of his declaration that none of the candidates so far entered have declared they will "correct any of the terrible abuses that have come to be accepted as a necessary part of the program of prohibition law enforcement."

While having sworn to abide by and uphold the principles of the Republican party, Mr. Durand said he was certain the national and state platforms would go no further than declare for proper enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment "and that is exactly where we stand."

"We shall not, however, allow one part of the constitution to be enforced at the expense of all the rest of it; and the people shall again be secure in their homes against the impertinent, impudent and outrageous intrusion of the officers of commercialized courts and be protected from the systematic black-milling operations of those who under color of authority have made and are making a travesty of justice."

Carmelita Geraghty Dempsey's Leading Woman Tells About Her Daily Exercises

1. For loosening up stiff muscles and strengthening the back there is no exercise so beneficial as touching the toes forty times, without bending the knees. This is the best exercise to start the day with.

2. The most efficacious exercise for the shoulder muscles, is to touch the ground on the right with the left hand and then on the left with the right hand, half a dozen times with each.

3. This movement keeps the hips down and the ankles slim. Stretch the body at full length. Raise first the right leg, and then the left, keeping the lowered leg stretched well out. Repeat this until you begin to feel the strain. You will notice that each day you will be able to do it a few more times.

4. "This is easy," says Miss Geraghty. But it really isn't, until you become used to it. Raising the body high in the air on the back keeps the neck muscles strong as well as the back and promotes gracefulness.

5. This is "the back bend" and is excellent for the neck, back, legs and lungs. No doubt if you follow these exercises as religiously as Carmelita does you will shortly notice a decided physical change for the better.

CLASS OF 25 INITIATED BY GROTTO; 362 AT BANQUET

Living up to their claim of being a live wire organization wherein there is provided means for a social good time, Prophets of Zealigard Grotto last night demonstrated beyond all doubt to a class of 25 candidates that the Grotto is the real playground claimed for it. The occasion yesterday was a mid-summer ceremonial, and to add that it was a success is putting it lightly. Those who were of the opinion that hot weather would tend to cut down the interest and attendance, were doomed to bitter disappointment, for both were greater than ever before. Close to 400 members and candidates enjoyed the six o'clock dinner served by the women of the First Presbyterian church. The program of the day started at four o'clock with the assembly of candidates and Prophets in Grotto hall, Court and Second streets. At five the crack Grotto band of almost forty pieces and led by Drum-Major Julius Baumann, headed the parade that moved up Second street to Chillicothe, north on Chillicothe to Sixth, east on Sixth to Gay, south on Gay to Gallia, west on Gallia to Chillicothe, west on Fifth to Court and south on Court to the First Presbyterian church.

Behind the band marched the newly organized Grotto Patrol of 40 young men under the direction of Captain Carey Williams and his lieutenants. Their various formations and movements during the parade won them considerable praise, the organization making a splendid showing considering the short time it has been drilled. The Patrol is to be completely uniformed before the members go to the National convention in Indianapolis this month. Following the parade were the more than two dozen candidates closely guarded by Prophets to keep them from suddenly changing their mind and bolting from the scene. More than 200 Prophets, wearing the fez, brought up the rear of the parade.

A Real Feed In the First Presbyterian church basement the women of the church had prepared tables for 400 and had everything in readiness when the hungry Prophets and candidates filed in. The menu, faultlessly prepared, was served in the same manner and the large crowd was full of prizes for the good women of the church. A count of noses showed 362 were served.

From the dinner tables Prophets and candidates went to Grotto hall, where at seven the ritualistic work was conferred with Past-Monarch John Millard enacting the chief character role. The entire cast took their parts in a manner that elicited many compliments. During the time the stage was prepared for the revels which followed the ritualistic work, two splendid talks were given by Prophet Meyers, secretary of Zealigard Grotto of Columbus, and Prophet Bailey of Zanesville, who headed the local Grotto nice bouquets on their degree work. Music was furnished by the Grotto band and "Prof." Fred Kilgusman, singer and musician extraordinary. Monarch Ed Leach also gave a talk on the plans made for the local Grotto to attend the national convention in Indianapolis. A special train carrying the Grotto band and patrol and a number of members will leave here Sunday evening, June 22, for the convention city. Several Prophets last night decided to make the trip.

It was Hot Enough The revels brought the evening's program to a close. In this part of the program not a single candidate was overlooked and those who are willing to say that it was not "hot enough" for them are invited back for the next ceremonial.

The class included: Earl Wolfe, Chas. A. Stahl, A. H. Richardson, Orel Dever, Richard Burgess, Lowell Holt, Raymond Thompson, Chas. M. Shively, Leo Van Berg, James M. Gilbert, Walter E. Reinhardt, George B. Olmsted, Len Holbrook, Adam Gelder, M. F. Stephenson, Arthur Canfer, George W. Conover, Virgil Fowler, Harry C. Wiley, Paul Reiser, Frank C. Criner, J. P. Gordon, Dr. Dave C. Williams, Hallie G. Cox, R. B. Cross.

Dad will be the guest of honor at the family dinner table Sunday. For once he will get his choice of the chicken instead of having to eat whatever piece the other members of the family do not care for. "Father's Day" is a comparative-

FEEL BETTER IN FEW HOURS OR NO COST!

Quit Poisoning Yourself Today! Notice Quick Difference in the Way You Look, Eat, Sleep and Feel.

Read How Vast Numbers Here Are Gaining Quick and Sure Relief Through Use of Dr. Thacher's Great Prescription.

The great agitation over SELF-POISONING is sweeping the country. The message is great! It is one that should cause every man, woman and child to pause and consider one's own condition.

Self-poisoning, as it is called, is the direct result of allowing the liver, the body's filter, to become sluggish and clogged. This is why many wake up feeling dull and tired—tongue coated—and taste in mouth and offensive breath.

Why You Feel Badly This explains why so many suffer from just such symptoms as poor digestion, sour stomach, and formation of gases, improper movement of the bowels, pimples, sallow complexion, sick headaches and a nervous, tense and overtaxed condition of the system—why one catches cold so easily while in this run-down condition and why the system is not healthy enough to throw off various diseases as Nature intended.

Due to Neglect But there is no need for alarm; This Self-Poisoning instance is not contagious—but due entirely to one's own neglect. And, just as science has traced these symptoms directly to a poisoned liver and system, so medical authorities have perfected a remedy that overcomes the cause of Self-Poisoning and quickly restores miserable sufferings.

Gives Quick Relief The great prescription of Dr. H. S. Thacher, is considered the most efficient of all methods in aiding Nature to throw off these poisons. Great numbers here are daily reporting quick relief from its use and practically every experimental method of overcoming Self-Poisoning has been abandoned as case after case of remarkable restoration to health and happiness through Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup has been noted.

Strengthens System Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup helps Nature to cleanse and tone the liver, wake up your appetite, strengthen your digestion organs, soothe the tired and overtaxed nerves, brace up your system and purify your blood. The result is you quickly feel a return of your strength, vigor and energy.

Sold Under Guarantee Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup contains ingredients that are known to physicians for their corrective and health-building qualities. Working, Stripped to the Waist, Cheering Their Comrades, An Explosion—Then Tragedy

SAN PEDRO, Cal., June 13.—(By United Press.)—Riding calmly at anchor the U. S. S. Mississippi rested in its accustomed position in "Battleship Row" today, giving little evidence of the tragedy aboard her which a few hours before had instantly killed forty-eight officers and men.

Closed the hospital ship Relief, turned into a mortuary to receive the bodies comprising the toll of the navy's greatest peacetime horror and to treat the burns of the suffering men, many of whom prayed for death to end their suffering.

Today a secret board of inquiry was to convene. Capt. Yates Sterling, commanding officer of the U. S. S. New Mexico, will be in charge of the investigation seeking to determine the cause of the explosion yesterday in the forward turret of the Mississippi while the dreadnaught was in battle practice off San Clemente Island, 50 miles at sea.

There were two blasts, each claiming its toll of life. The first was the explosion of T. N. T. compound being packed behind a shell in Number Four gun, as rivals grew intense out in the ocean target field. The second was four hours later when the dreadnaught had returned to the harbor.

More than a score of injured sailors were placed aboard the hospital ship and it was feared the death toll would be increased. Probably the exact cause of the tragedy will never be known. Two of those who surrounded the three guns in turret Number Two are alive but were uncertain as to what the blast was due.

The Mississippi was the crack vessel of its division. Its guns hold many records and turret Number Two housed the best of the lot. Now the big circular steel superstructure is a mass of tangled metal while the guns and apparatus within it is blackened with powder. Twelve miles north of San Clemente Island yesterday the Mississippi took up a position near the Tennessee and Idaho for secret target practice. Far in the distance was the California and behind it drifted a huge target at which the other vessels were to fire.

Fifty odd men were in gun turret No. 2; fifty of them were stationed at the three guns, while the others were in the handling rooms. Lieut. Thomas E. Zellars was in command while Ensigns Marcus Erwin, J. J. Lussouri and James McCrea were with him.

Working with speed and cheering each other as they labored, sailors stripped to the waist rolled in the huge shells, and rammed them behind in the breeches of the guns, the sacks of powder.

The breeches of guns No. 5 and 6 were closed, locked and ready to fire. That of No. 4 still stood open. Four sacks of powder lay on the floor.

Then came the explosion. Some one may have given a premature order to fire. A short circuit in the electric light cord drawn across the powder bags; a bit of ignited fragment left from the shell fired just before or a spark from the powder ram—all have been advanced as possible causes of the blast.

There was a roar, a blinding blast of flame, a cloud of smoke and silence. Members of the crew rushed to the turret. Entrance was impossible. The heat had melted the two small doors until they were a part of the big steel bulk.

An acetylene torch was secured and with it a hole was cut into the turret. Lieut. H. Donald Smith volunteered to be the first to enter. Donning a gas mask he crept through the hole into the fuming, heated interior of the turret. He found it well filled with water.

Some one in the heat and terror of the moment—some hero who will never be known—fanned on the water and prevented further explosions with even greater damage. Creeping forward, Lieut. Smith found twisted, blackened and mangled bodies but never a sign of life. Not one of the men left in the turret was alive.

With Captain William T. Broderick in command the Mississippi turned and started for the harbor. Physicians and men of the medical corps rushed to the ammunition room where other members of the turret crew lay, burned or shocked into unconsciousness by the explosion.

Joe Cavazos, Irving Eickerson and Robert McCaddin, from the New Mexico, were the only ones of eight from their vessel who went aboard the Mississippi as observers to survive. They owe their lives to the fact they either jumped or were blown from the turret forty feet down a hatchway into the powder magazine just as the doors of the turret closed automatically behind them.

Shortly after the Mississippi reached port and while the work of carrying the dead and injured from the turret was under way, came the second explosion. A deaf sailor's hand, swinging limply as the corpse was lifted from the steel floor touched the firing switch of gun No. 5. The shell exploded and went hurtling down the hatch, passing closely by the steamer Yale, outbound. This blast increased the death toll by four.

Fearing a similar explosion of the shell in gun No. 6, the Mississippi was ordered outside the harbor where during the evening it seemed slowly back and forth, the muzzles of its 14 inch guns pointed toward the sea.

The three members of the New Mexico's crew who escaped returned to their ship and told their story, pressed for details by their comrades. "The whole thing felt more like a blaze than an explosion," McCaddin said. "It was red, awful red and just sort of set fire to everything. The heavy steel plates turned white hot."

"The gas was terrible. It choked and gagged and burned my throat and eyes like acid. I could hardly see. The boys, those alive, were fighting to beat back the flames so they could get out, but they all fell over. "I saw Ensign McCrea standing in the control room, cool and with the telephone receiver on his head. He was directing the men, with no thought for his own safety. He died like a hero. He told me to go down through the magazine room and that is what saved my life. "I had tried to get out the hatchway I would have gone like the rest. Down there I found Carter and Eickerson and we made our way to the bottom deck."

Strict censorship was declared and the Mississippi when the dreadnaught arrived in port and had not been lifted today. Shore leave was denied all members of the crew and all officers were instructed to say nothing about the tragedy.

Bandits Rob Bronx Jeweler; Make a $43,500 Haul

NEW YORK, June 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Three armed bandits today bound a Bronx jeweler, and his salesman, and then ransacked the store, escaping with merchandise and cash valued at $43,500. Perching Samuel Hahn, the proprietor, and his employee, into the rear room of the store, bandits made Hahn open the safe. They stripped it of stones valued at $18,000, taking also $500 in money. The men then bound Hahn and pocketed a handful of unset jewels. Stepping to a show window the bandits scooped up all of the loose jewelry in sight and fled.

Navy Romance Shattered

The Navy "hop" at Annapolis, where many a romance blossoms, brought together Bita Beckman, 18, daughter of a U. S. Army colonel, and Robert D. Lowther, naval student. It was love at first sight, but annulment at second—for the beautiful girl is under 18 and he is under 21.

All Stars Will Invade Russell

The Portsmouth All Star outfit is "all set" for their invasion of Russell Sunday when they will stack up against Lester Lloyd's strong aggregation of home-busters. The local crowd dropped a hard-fought struggle to the Russell gang a couple of weeks ago, being used out by the Kentuckians in the final round, and Joe Barber and his pals are returning to the Kentucky city chuck full of confidence they will get revenge by turning the tables on the enemy.

The local team has recently been materially strengthened by the acquisition of Hanksen, the Sciotoville star, who will take care of the hot corner, and Noble, former Wellston performer, who will guard the key-note sack. Both are good hitters, and gives the team an added punch.

May Stage Boxing Shows In Ironton

William S. Harris has plans under way whereby he may stage a few boxing shows in Ironton during the next meet in Raceland. There are many boxing fans in the Nall City who are anxious to have him give them some real boxing shows such as he has provided for the Portsmouth athletic enthusiasts for the past several years. The Ironton folks will be certain to see some great matches if Harris decides to stage some fist fights for their pleasure, and there is no one in these parts more qualified to promote the affairs than the Portsmouth promoter.

STRIKING COINCIDENCES

It is strange how the currents of life flow across each other.
The other day, for the first time in its generations of existence, there came to this office a copy of a Rochester paper. Why it was sent to us we do not know, but within less than two hours after its arrival two young men who were in the town for the first time, came in and asked if such a thing could be possible as us having about a copy of a Rochester paper.

Of course, the paper was gladly handed them.
Then, today, a gentleman, who had no idea of the editorial personality but who was anxious to present some propaganda, came in and in his first showing unfolded some ancient lore about a little village that was right across the creek from our childhood home, hundreds of miles away from here.
Go where one will these coincidences are occurring; they come into the life of all and they add something of joy and something of mystery thereto.

SWATTING THE FLY

In the days when Henry Cabot Lodge was laying the foundation of the reputation and character that in later years were to designate him as the political gadfly, there was a doggerel song of much popularity called "Shoo, Fly, Don't Bother Me."

We wonder if events at Cleveland recalled the memory of that title to him and placed the accent on "Me."
For years Lodge furnished a high spirit of jocularity to the Republicans because of his constant buzzing and annoyance of everything Democratic, and with ghoulish glee they acclaimed his indecent attacks upon the stricken Wilson.

But things have changed and are different. Lodge's vicious propensities grew with what they fed upon and his extending operations made him a general nuisance. He became intolerable when he set himself against Coolidge and all his works.

He was repudiated ignominiously by the Massachusetts state delegation that didn't even give him the puny honor of chairman.

The only vacant place, in Cleveland, which has been mulling with thousands of eager and restless job expectants, was about nine square feet of echoing void, immediately occurring about wherever Henry Cabot Lodge, the political gadfly happened to light.

AN APT DESIGNATION

The agricultural lobby, at Washington, is lumpy indignant at President Coolidge. Principally because if things go along as he has been conducting them, it will soon find itself out of a job.

It hasn't succeeded in bulldozing or wheedling a thing out of congress for the relief of the distressed agriculturists, and for all this it blames Coolidge and accuses him of being indignant against the interests of the toilers of the soil.

Admitted there wasn't a single agricultural measure pending that would have been worth the ink consumed in printing it, had it been passed, but what difference does that make?

Anything bearing the right sort of a title would have convinced the grangers their representatives at Washington were right on the job and so the job would have been secure, the only thing that counts with the lobby. Anyway that word "indignant" is certainly apt and it will stick.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY G. O. McINTIRE

NEW YORK, June 13.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: The farthest north in swank—a white limousine and white uniformed chauffeur. The buzz of the tennis courts. Marionettes jerking to tempo and jazz. Haughty epaulettes doing their strut.

James Montgomery Flagg. And his wide wing collar. Only one in town wider and that's Louis Mann's. Tall coats and top hats. A new theatre in futuristic design—arcs, waves, spindly parabolas. A ballet dance teacher with the flaming red beard of a Norse viking.

Crowds awaiting a prize fight gong. The mauling of the pack. Caps and sweaters. And unshaven chins. A pie wagon upsets in the crush. A military store run by Paul and Chester. And each wears a blue velvet coat. Mercy me!

The gossiping crowd in front of the Friars. I've no time for idle twitting. Quinn Martin, the critic, has his name in electric lights over the Winter Garden. A house with a sign on the door knob: "Lock changed—Don't Try to Come In." Some husband getting his.

Lovers strolling toward the park. Dusk is dancing down the lane. How sad to grow old. Still there are a few thrills left. For instance—the smell of frying onions. A string of book rots. Wonder if a child's window juggler ever eats his own batter cakes.

A textile district. Swarthy faces. Groups that babble in many tongues. Backs bent over whirling machines. Red checked foreign girls. Who age rapidly. Midish extras. Sweet potatoes on sticks. Devilled pumpkins seeds. And candy paste. Fifth Avenue asphalt. As clean as a gnawed bone.

The whirl of a Broadway night. Hundreds of musicians going to orchestra pits. I always feel sorry for the fellows who have to carry piccolos for compensation. Still after all I'd rather bent the bass.

Down on East 17th street there is an announcement on a door that a bankruptcy petition has been filed against The Bullet-Proof Vest Corporation. One newspaper headlines it: "Bang! Bang!" Strangely enough, the concern did a good business for awhile. More people than one might imagine wanted the protection of a bullet proof vest. Gangsters of the East Side were all customers. But in the final analysis the market was limited. All those who felt the need of bullet proof protection seemed to have been supplied and so the concern had to quit.

When Bide Dudley was running a country paper in Kansas he received the following scornful letter from a subscriber: "I don't know whether I am a subscriber to your paper or not, but if I am, please stop it."

Yetta Levinson, the belle of Grand street, has left the East Side for one of the exclusive avenue dressmaking places—the kind that are known as maison, something or other. Here in gorgeous robes she will parade for prospective customers. Yetta has just been over. Yetta came here about three years ago from Russia and she became a saleswoman in a Grand Street store and later manager of the dressmaking department. Her beauty spread uptown and she was offered $150 a week to become one of the chief mannequins.

I have an office in the Times Square district that I visit perhaps three or four times a year. The last time I was there the young lady in charge asked me who I desired to see. I told her no one and departed. I don't want to get too familiar around there. Some day they might get the idea I should do a little work. Copyrighted, 1924, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

HOURS

Some hours run by like maids,
That smile and blow a kiss;
While others pass like shades,
That rob us of our bliss.

And some go by like cones,
That melt in a staff;
Their wrinkles and their moans
Forthright the heart to laugh.

But there are many hours
That like the soldiers pass,
Tramping on earth her flowers
To sound of drum and brass.

Their souls are brands of fire
For freedom and for right;
Their deeds awake the lyre
And fill the world with light.

—Laura Blackburn.

And a Couple of Teeth

A man and a woman were traveling in a train. The woman had a dog, and the man a pig.

The man threw the dog out of the window, and the woman got up and threw the man's pig out after it.

When they got out at the next station, they met the dog—and what do you think he had in his mouth?

Answer: His tongue.

Too Much For Him

Smith—"How do you destroy the evidence around your place?"

Jones—"I keep a goat and he eats all the empty bottles."

"Good idea, but don't they disagree with him?"

"No, but he was terribly sick the other day. I left a little in one of the bottles for mistake."

Mrs. Kriss—"Yes, dear. Why do you ask?"
